

ANNUAL HISTORY ESSAY CONTEST FOR UNIVERSITY

Local D. A. R. Group
Will Make Awards
At Commencement.

TWO CASH PRIZES

The annual history essay contest sponsored by the Major Isaac Sadler chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was announced last Saturday by Miss Genevieve Clark, chairman of the contest committee.

Two ten-dollar prizes will be awarded to students of the University on assigned topics of American history. The essays must not contain over 3,500 words and must be turned in to the judges not later than Friday, May 25.

Prizes will be presented to the winners at the Commencement Day services, Wednesday, June 3.

"The essays are to be judged on the basis of form, content, correctness of English, and loyalty to American ideals," stated Miss Clark. "The necessary study and research required to prepare such an essay greatly promotes the study of American history, which is one of the purposes of the chapter," she added.

One of the prizes is the Alwilda Worthington Clark Memorial prize and the other is given by the chapter itself.

The topics for the essays are:

1. The Scotch-Irish in the American Revolution.
2. The Declaration of Independence as an Expression of the

Amendments By Council Defended Friday In Forum

About one hundred and fifteen students were addressed by members of the Student Council at the student forum in Jacobs' Hall at 10 a. m., Friday, February 21, in an attempt to explain the new amendments to the Council's by-laws in regard to the appointment of the Ma-Ie Day committee.

Council members explained that the prevalence of political factions, and the indifference of large numbers of students to the elections made it necessary for the Council to select the Ma-Ie Day committee.

Several students stated their opinions for and against this action. The meeting closed with the Council stating that they had acted within their rights, according to the constitution, and the only check the students possessed over the Council was in the yearly election.

Utilities Manager Addresses Class

Mr. C. K. Wiggins, district manager of Electrical Products Consolidated, gave a lecture to the Management Policies class on "The Problems of Recruiting Dependable Salesmen," Tuesday, February 17.

"I do not know of any phase of business that offers the man without capital a better opportunity than selling," Mr. Wiggins stated. "I know that business is crying for salesmen who have prepared themselves in advance for selling."

Talkers Tripped In Travels

The Omaha University debaters have achieved the distinction of going 250 miles for lunch.

Last week the team was scheduled to debate at Emporia, Kansas. The debaters left Thursday morning and arrived in Kansas City at lunch time. After eating a hurried lunch, they were prepared to change trains. While looking for seats on the Emporia-bound train, a telegram arrived.

The message was very brief but to the point. The debate tournament had been cancelled due to the weather conditions, so the debaters returned to Omaha.

Lucille Hurlbut and Fannie Witkin were the debaters. Miss Ruth Diamond accompanied them.

Gamma Pi Sigma Hears Gustauson On Sex Hormones

Dr. Reuben G. Gustauson addressed the eighth annual dinner of the Alpha chapter of Gamma Pi Sigma, honorary chemistry fraternity, last Saturday evening, February 22, at the Medical Arts Tea Room.

William Holland, president of the club, was toastmaster and introduced Dr. Nicholas Dietz, chairman of the Omaha section of the American Chemical Society, and Mr. Leonard Ellendogen, an officer of the Beta chapter at Creighton University.

There were forty-five people at the dinner and about one hundred and fifty attended the lecture which followed. Among other guests were Mrs. Gustauson, Dr. Edgar A. Holt, and Mr. Nils-Martens Swerre, representative of the Noon Day Club.

Those on the banquet committee were: William Haberstroh, chairman; John Zitnik, ticket chairman; Emma Grace Reilly, Vance Senter, Ralph Kline, and Paul Stageman.

Tech Seniors Hear Haynes

President Rowland Haynes addressed Technical high school March and June graduating seniors Wednesday morning. C. W. Helmstadter, registrar, and Leroy Olson, '37, gave short talks. A solo by Ida Gitlin, and presentations by Amy Rohacek and Louise Riggs completed the program.

Wednesday evening, President Haynes spoke at the annual banquet of the Immanuel Baptist church Bible Brotherhood.

Thursday morning the president gave a talk before the junior and senior classes at Central high school.

The Harrison P. T. A., will hear President Haynes speak of "Home Influence on School Life" Tuesday, March 3.

DR. PETERSON LECTURES

Dr. Alfred O. Peterson addressed the members of the Chemistry Club this morning at 10 o'clock in Room 104 in the Science Hall. His subject was "Colloids."

GRAD REQUESTS CREDITS

Mr. Helmstadter received a letter recently from a former student, Donald Nicholson, who now lives in Madison, Wisconsin, asking for the credits which he earned during 1916 and 1917, twenty years ago.

SORENSEN AGAIN MA-IE DAY FETE COMMITTEE HEAD

Selection of Groups
By Student Council Announced Friday.

WILL MEET SOON

Kenneth Turner, president of the Student Council, announced today that the committee in charge of Ma-Ie Day, has been selected by the Student Council and that Howard Sorensen is again chairman of the committee.

Other members are Jane Cook, Virginia Lee Long, Leo Pearey, and Macy Baum.

The committee has held no meeting as yet, but individual members have already contacted persons about writing the show, which is to be a part of the celebration as carried on last year. Though no definite plans have been made, the show and celebration is to be patterned after the festival last year. The committee hopes that all organizations will be represented in the show with acts of their own, as has been the custom in the past.

Members on the committee, Turner stated, had been selected for their capability and dependability in handling the heavy responsibility that this position entails. The committee is responsible for the complete success of the celebration as well as the financial arrangements, which are of themselves a big job, he added.

The event was established last year in accordance with a plan drawn up by Martin Speckter, ex-'37, and Virginia Lee Long, '37. The name, Ma-Ie, as well as the whole plan, are taken from a careful study and adaptation of the certain tribal rituals of the Omaha Indian tribe at Macy, Nebr.

Thetas Cigarette Contest Winners

Theta Phi Delta fraternity again won first place in the second Old Gold contest held at the University. Phi Sigma Phi won second place, and the individual barbie prize was won by Jimmie James. The prize money of $35.00 was divided among the winners—$20.00 first prize, $10.00 second prize, and $5.00 individual prize.

The contest closed at 4 p. m., Friday, February 21.

Year Book Contest

Five dollars will be presented to the student who submits the winning name for the University yearbook before Thursday noon, May 5, announced Dr. W. D. Maclay, chairman of the board of student publications, this week.

The name will be selected by a committee composed of: Kenneth Turner, president of the student council; John Moucka, president of the Senior class; Kenneth Hargrove, president of the Pan-Hellenic council; Faye Lane, member of the publications board; and Dr. Benjamin Boyce, head of the English department.

The last yearbook published by the University, in 1929, was called the "Omahan."

Women Students!

Attention: To every girl registered in the Municipal University of Omaha the University Women's Club invites you to have lunch with them on Wednesday, March 4, in the Women's Faculty building. Lunch will be served to accommodate all from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

Luncheon will take the place of the annual spring tea for the University women.

The committee in charge includes Mesdames Maclay, Maxwell, Bradford, Wallace, Crenshaw, and Miss Tubbs.

The committee hopes that every girl in the school will take advantage of this opportunity to meet the wives of their instructors and professors.

Men Set Example For Scholarship; Five Get All "A"

All "A" records were received last semester by five men University students. These included Ralph Kline, Lando Otto, Earl Peters, Vance Senter, and Prentice Wendland. To be listed as a student one must carry at least 12 semester hour credits.

Those receiving one "B" and the rest "A" grades were: Norma Ellingwood, Glen Blackstone, Laura Buckland, Ruth Behrmann, Beth Campbell, Dorothy Higgins, Ellen Hartman, Bob Mason, Keith Maxwell, Verner Parrish, Willa Roben, Bertha Slutsky, Kenneth Scholes, Jeanne Stromberg, Betty Young, George DeNault, Melvin Brock, Muriel Byrn, Frances Fore, Lucille Hurlbut, Milton Lund, John Miller, and Clitus Olson.

Special Students, or those carrying less than 12 credit hours last semester and receiving all "A" grades were: Earl Cairns, Gladys Follmer, Bess Greer, Laura Gibbs, Alice Hill, Kathryn Johnson, Ann Liebst, Evelyn Smith, Leora Washburn, and Lloyd Wallingford.

Baker To Remain University Coach

A rumor which had been circulating on the campus proved to be false last week when Johnny Baker, Omaha's new line coach and head basketball mentor, definitely announced that he would not leave Omaha in favor of Grinnell college.

It had been stated that Baker was being considered as head coach at the Iowa college. Baker explained that he was approached some weeks ago, but refused to consider the offer. This refusal was welcomed by the Card athletes.

In addition to his coaching abilities Baker is also an actor. While attending S. C. U. of Los Angeles he appeared in many football pictures, among them "Touchdown," "Hold 'Em, Jail," "All American," and "Spirit of Notre Dame." Mr. and Mrs. Baker will spend about two months in Hollywood next summer.

TEACHER VISITS SCHOOLS

Dr. Leslie N. Garlough last week visited Nebraska Wesleyan University at Lincoln; Kearney State Teachers College, and Hastings College.

"I met many interesting people and was received with great kindness at all of these schools," said Dr. Garlough.

A WORD TO THE REGENTS

Unless the new University site is selected soon, the opportunity of joining the North Central Association this year will probably be lost.

Former requests have been rejected because of inadequate building facilities. The Science Hall at 24th and Ames, eight blocks from the main campus, a building which has been condemned for years, was the main factor which decided the N. C. officials against admitting us last year.

The conditions are not much better this year than last. Students still have to cross railroad tracks between classes, the library is a fire-encouraging flimsy building housing thousands of valuable books, and classes are still crowded into a building which was built to hold two hundred students.

The University must depend upon its well-trained faculty, its administration officials and the 250 thousand dollars in the building fund to secure consideration this year.

Since the Cardinals are now playing games in the North Central conference, the first signs of building life at the University, should produce a favorable reply to our request for admittance.

We must have a site selected by April 1.

"JUST AROUND THE CORNER"

"The depression reached its lowest level in 1932, and times are gradually, but steadily, getting better," Professor Severson told one of his classes several days ago.

This is welcome news to all graduating seniors. In fact, it's welcome news to all undergraduates. For the past five years students have been appalled at the thought of entering the business world. Jobs have been non-existent.

All in all, this past year has been a gloomy one for most Omahans. One-fifth of all the residents are dependent upon the federal government for bare physical existence, and have endured the severest winter in history. It's not to be wondered that many lost that self-confidence which is so essential to the maintenance of moral courage through a crisis.

We students who have become discouraged during this period of economic chaos certainly hope, Professor Severson, that your statement proves true.

ECONOMICS PROF HEADS COMMITTEE

The bookstore committee has selected Professor Severson as chairman. He is a specialist in the field of economics, and he should be able to solve the present problem. Now that the committee is fully organized there is no reason why it cannot carry on to a rapid and favorable conclusion.

Thru The Keyhole

What do college women talk about?

After listening closely for a week and taking copious notes this columnist comes to the conclusion that "silence is golden."

There are, or rather were, two male students wearing shiners around the campus. Slump acquired his accidentally. Kirshenbrock got his as a result of malice aforethought.

Irony "or something"—Betty Amsden, ex-Omaha U student—Queen of the Creighton Prom.

Girls were going stag to the Vice Versa tonight so that more tickets would be sold.... Sounds like Omaha U!....Diamond stopped that and in the scramble Lehigh and Ryan played prominent parts....The money's all on Leigh now.

Shoulder shruggings, facial grimaces, and slouchings might be considered a la mode in the secondary schools, but for XXXXX sake give the university males credit for the ability to assimilate information through the aural cavities as well as the optic centers.

How many of you have noticed a column authored by a University student appearing in the Sunday society section of the World-Herald?

A few more days of this romance weather and the prayer meetings will convene again.

Tiny Ryan was badly worried last week when Kate Davis contracted scarlet fever.

Crowds collect when James and Steincamp collaborate on their elevator dance....You know—up and down.

SEEN FOR THE FIRST TIME

Johnny Baker agitated at a basketball game.... A femme who carries her own matches....Proof of the old adage that a man's true nature is disclosed under the influence....Two juveniles writing each other notes in the University Cafe....A courageous soul at the Phi Sig dance who aped a fashion sponsored by Esquire....Two persons trying to say rapidly in unison: "Who takes care of the fig plucker's daughter when the fig plucker is busy plucking figs?"

With the Vice Versa coming we hear the following: Meyer-Bill Wood; Thompson-Cooper; Nelson-Belau....and we wonder who Corrington is taking....It seems that Davis doesn't like the way Phillips and Margie get along so well....Bob Anderson and K. Johnson seem to be getting along O. K. these days....Rogers and Saltares seem to be getting well acquainted lately.

A certain North Platte femme has taken the marriage vows, much to the despair of an athletic Winchell....I guess it just wasn't "In the Cards," eh, Leo?

College Life in the Nineties—Harpers
(Henry Seidel Canby)

February Harpers Magazine contains a frank account of Henry Seidel Canby's college life at Yale University in the gay nineties. College life then was not so much different from that of today. The freshmen were awed by the so-called Big Men and by the new sophisticated life so different from their own snug home environment. The wealth and gaiety of the time created on the campus a rebellion against decorum and increased irresponsibility. But it was collegiate to be carefree and optimistic. Yet, the students did not receive a real education, says this former teacher of Yale. Too much time was spent having "fun" and participating in extra-curricula activities. In order to be a Big Man one had to be left guard on the scrub, had to write jokes for the Record, or had to manage a chess team. There were very few student thinkers who saw life as it really was. To do something was the main thing. Although the campus had a romantic atmosphere, Mr. Canby looks back and wonders if a great deal of it wasn't quite trivial.

He winked—

She smiled.

They started talking.

He joked—

She laughed.

They started walking.

They loved—

They wed.

They started squawking.

—Harold Clark.

It is the hope of the students that the committee's findings will be such that a general reduction of bookstore prices can be made with a minimum of organization. However, if a complete revision of the system, under which the bookstore is now run is necessary, it should and must be made.

SHUFFLINS'

By HESLER

Ted Carpenter of Marquette has taken the trouble to dig out the original rules for basketball. Here are a few of the choicest ones:

A goal shall be made when the ball is thrown or batted from the grounds into the basket, and stays there, providing those defending the goal do not touch or disturb the goal. If the ball rests on the edge and the opponent moves the basket, it shall be counted as a goal.

The player can not run with the ball; he must throw it from the spot where he catches it, allowance being made for a man who catches the ball when running at a good speed.

Points For Fouls

If either side makes three consecutive fouls, it shall count as a goal for the opponent.

When the ball goes out of bounds, it shall be thrown into the field, and played by the person first touching it. In case of dispute, the umpire shall throw it straight into the field, the thrower is to be allowed five seconds; if he holds it longer, it shall go to the opponent.

The time shall be two fifteen-minute halves, with five minutes rest between.

No shouldering, pushing, holding, tripping or striking in any way the person of an opponent is to be allowed. The first infringement of this rule by any person shall count as a foul.

No Substitutes Allowed

The second foul shall disqualify the player until the next goal is made, or if there is evident intent to injure the person, for the whole game, no substitute is allowed.

Interesting, aren't they? Imagine playing a game now and worrying if the opponent will move the basket when the referee isn't looking.

Nothing was mentioned in the rules about charity shots. If three consecutive fouls were made, the opponent would receive two points. We should have that rule in force now, and we wouldn't have to worry about losing two North Central Conference games because of our weakness for missing free throws. Something should be done about it, shouldn't it?

Cynicism!

No wonder there's a lot of knowledge in colleges—freshmen always bring a little in and the seniors never take any out.

Who Is It?

One of the outstanding profs on the University campus who makes many of the young feminine hearts jump. He was a football player in his college. He is one of the few professors that has a well-developed sense of humor. He may be seen at all of the dances, and dates one of the fair sex that now attends Omaha University.

Writing Contest
Sponsored By English Frat

A writing contest open to all students of the Municipal University was announced by Kappa Gamma chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity.

An award of ten dollars will be made for the best piece of original writing submitted. Manuscripts may include poetry, drama, short stories, informal and critical essays, or any other type of literature. They should be in the hands of Dr. Benjamin Boyce, head of the English department, or Miss Jeanette Winters, librarian assistant, on or before May 1.

"This contest is held with the hope of revealing and encouraging literary talent among the students of the University," stated Miss Winters, who is in charge of the contest committee.

Mrs. Irene Rankin is the president of Sigma Tau Delta.

If the president and vice-president died, who would take charge?
Ans. The Undertaker.

Cardinals Lose In Exciting Tilt

The Cardinals were defeated last Saturday evening by the score of 41 to 37 in the most exciting game of the entire season. An overtime period was necessary after a closer check of the score revealed a 36 to 36 tie instead of the 37 to 36 victory posted on the scoreboard.

It was a hard fought contest from the beginning, and the Maroons led throughout, except at the very end.

The Redbirds defeated the Iowa State Teachers at Benson High February 22 by a count of 34 to 21, after dropping the first game at Cedar Falls a week before.

The Morningside Frosh defeated the Cardinal Frosh last Saturday as an opener for the varsity game by a score of 32 to 15.

Theta Team Leads Mural Tournament

The Theta's are leading in the Intra-mural tournament with 3 wins and no losses. Led by Captain Ryan, they have given the Indians and the Ramblers their only defeat. The Alpha Sigs are at the bottom of the list with 3 losses and no victories.

Next week the three high teams will play a round robin to determine the championship.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Thetas	3	0	1.000
Indians	2	1	.666
Ramblers	2	1	.666
Mohawks	1	2	.333
Phi Sigs	1	2	.333
Alpha Sigs	0	3	.000

Girls' Sports

Girl's basketball practices are held every noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m. Plans are being made for teams to be formed in both classes and sororities, depending on the number out for practices.

Miss Diamond's lecture on the Modern Dance was demonstrated by the Concert Group, Wednesday, February 19, 1936, for the Humanities Group. The girls taking part were: Maxine Marrs, Frances Dinger, Elaine Coulter, Eloise Johnson, Anne Raymond, Frances Savage, Jane Cook, Janet Graetz, Mrs. Benson and Helen Saltares.

W. A. A. girls went on a sleigh-riding party Sunday, February 23, along the river road in Florence. There were twenty-two girls participating. Pictures were taken and the party ended at the home of Miss Phyllis Knudsen.
